Cisco launched a new marketing project which is called CISCO SYSTEMS CORPORATE TIMELINE. A lot of facts about Cisco's technological, business and marketing leadership. Quite interesting especially about 80's and early 90's years. Sometimes I miss those ages

By the way the Okena company which is CSA's original mother was acquired in 2003. That was almost 6 years ago and it seems to me that CSA functionality and interface wasn't changed very much so far. Yes I know about all the new features but sometimes I think that Cisco could have done more. CSA could be more flexible, more sexier. I have some thoughts and suggestions but... time is short. And how on earth I could contact BU?
